EDITORIAL FLINGS

Mary had a little lamb
Which used to make us laugh;
But now we do not care a rap—
We'd know her by her calf!

So many newspapers now "cover the country like the dew," that we shudder to think what would happen if there should be a sudden frost in the air.

A Gulf States real estate agent who could not talk Southern real estate to homeseekers from the States where coal or natural gas must be burned from October until May must be as dumb as the Indian who used to stand before the cigar stores.

The Asheville, N. C., local of the American Federation of Music has banned jazz "in behalf of better music." How anyone able to play a musical instrument and familiar with music has managed to stand jazz up to this time puzzles many a man who could not play "Old Dan Tucker" on a jewsharp.

A Louisville paper reports fashionable women of Fourth Avenue as screaming with horror when they saw an automobile run over a sawdust baby. Well, even in France, where race suicide is the terror of army officers and statesmen, the women still know a baby when they see one.

A big watermelon looks fine
And it is hard to lug
But you may be deceived
If you judge it by the plug.

Oh, I like the little flapper
As she paddles down the street
With her little sawed-off wrapper
And her sandals nice and neat.
She's a bridle and a sweater
And her skirt is rather high;
But I've never seen 'em better
As a tonic for the eye.

The word "flapper" has been in use in England for close on two centuries. The term originally implied young ducks not able to fly. Early in the eighteenth century growing girls were first called "flappers" from a fancied resemblance to young ducks. Those we see on the streets of Paris seem well able to paddle along.

Nowadays the cream sauce is made of milk from the cocoanut cow, the molten copper in the girl's gleaming hair is from the beauty parlor and drug store, the poli hair is from the drug store, there is a tendency to scoff at good old-time religion, and labor and capital are waging war unscrupulously, but the moonshine retains the flavor of the olden days and life is not an empty dream.

Kentuckians may applaud Governor Morrow's statement that they will get their coal first, but there should be a little sympathy for the widely-scattered domestic consumers in Michigan, Minnesota and other Northern States in which green leaves will soon turn to gold and scarlet, and in which the deep snows will prevent coal deliveries when the warmth of Indian summer has not departed from Kentucky.

Lexington is as usual, preparing to "hog" everything in sight. When anything happens Lexington is right on the map. Now comes along Weather Prophet Asa K. Martin, who says "the first frost will fall on September 2, and snow on November 19, in Lexington." Can it be possible the weather man intends to cut out the rest of the Bluegrass? Is Lexington to be the only place the snow and frost will visit?

WE WANTED A CHANCE

We were getting a dollar six bits for our corn,
We could sell 'every hide from the hoof to the horn;

We wanted a change and we got it.
Now we're getting a quarter for corn—it's so cheap
That we burn it for fuel; our toes warm to keep;

We can't sell the hides so we bury them deep;
But we wanted a change and we got it.

The skilled workman pulled down eight bucks a day,
Now he's darn glad to work at any old pay;

But we wanted a change and we got it.

There was work and plenty for every man's son,
And warm food and shelter when that work was done;

Now millions are idle, heretofore there was none;
But we wanted a change and we got it.

Mr. Wilson spent quite a long time over there;
For peace he was fighting, but what did we care—

But we wanted a change and we got it.
Now all we read is of golf and vacation,

Gay week-ends at summer resorts and plantations,
But we wanted a change and we got it.

We were prosperous and happy, well fed and gay,
Now millions of children go hungry every day—

But we wanted a change and we got it.
Meanwhile we hear this: It was certain to come;

Reaction from war times; and war three years done,
If we wanted a lemon we sure did pick one—

But we wanted a change and we got it.

ANNUAL SUUNDAY SCHOOL INSTITUTE AUG 15-23

The eighth annual Sunday School Institute and Christian Workers' Conference of the Kentucky synod of the Presbyterian church will be held at Lee's Collegiate Institute, Jackson Ky., August 15 to 23.

The first five days of the conference will be taken up with programs on various phases of the work, lectures and recreation, and on August 21, 22 and 23 the Jackson Summer School of Missions will be conducted by Mrs. H. L. Cockerham, of Quicksand, Ky. Thos. B. Talbott, of Lexington, Sunday School Missionary and Superintendent of Home Missions, and the Rev. J. C. Hanley, president of Lee's Institute, will be in charge of the conferences.

Representatives from all parts of the State are expected to attend the meeting, which is expected to stimulate increased activity in Sunday school and home mission work in the church. Leaders in all phases of church work have been secured for addresses. Music provided by a special orchestra, including piano, violin and saxophones, will feature the programs. Vesper services will be conducted each evening at 7 o'clock. The Rev. Chas. Ray will be in charge of the singing.

KENTUCKY SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION AT WINCHESTER

Between 50 and 100 speakers will be on the program for the fifty-sixth annual State Convention of the Kentucky Sunday School Association which will be held in Winchester, October 3, 4 and 5, it was announced by Dr. George A. Joplin, of Louisville, general secretary of the association.

Speakers already obtained include the Rev. C. H. Greer, pastor of the Paris Methodist church; Dr. Frank L. McVey, president of the University of Kentucky; Miss Nannie Lee Fraysier, Louisville; Dr. Frank M. McKibben, Evansville, Ill.; Mrs. Maude Junkin Baldwin, Chicago, superintendent of the children's division of the International Sunday School Association, and Hugh S. McGill, Washington, general secretary of the International Sunday School Council of Religious Education.

George E. Tomlinson, Mayor of Winchester, and M. T. McEldowney of Winchester, president of the State Association, are among those making arrangements for the convention.

A choir of 100 voices to furnish music for the meeting has been organized and is rehearsing. It is expected that between 500 and 600 registered delegates will be in attendance.

LESSON FOR AUGUST 20.

SECOND RETURN FROM EXILE

LESSON TEXT—Ezra 7:1-8:36.
GOLDEN TEXT—The hand of our God is upon all them that seek him, for good.—Ezra 8:22.

REFERENCE MATERIAL—Ezra 9:1-10:17.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Ezra's Prayer for Help.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Ezra's Prayer for Help on a Journey.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Ezra: Teacher and Leader.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Religious Teachers: A Need and an Opportunity.

I. The Leader—Ezra (7:1-10).

1. Who he was (vv. 1-6). (1) A priest (vv. 1-5). The leader of the first company was Zerubbabel, a sort of military governor. The great need now was for a religious leader, for the people had gone far from God, as we see from the noble reforms which Ezra effected. (2) A ready scribe (v. 6). He was a teacher of the law of God.

2. His high ambition (7:10).

(1) "He set his heart to seek the law of the Lord" (v. 10). He definitely set out with the noble purpose to know God's Word. To be successful in anything one must set out with a purpose. Daniel was a success because he "purposed in his heart." Ministers and Sunday-school teachers should have this set purpose. (2) He set his heart to obey the Lord (v. 10). He was not only concerned with knowing God's Word, but to obey it. God's Word cannot fully be known by the intellect; it must be experienced. The essential qualification for a teacher of the Bible, a preacher or Sunday-school teacher, is obedience to God's Word. (3) He set his heart to teach Israel God's statutes and judgments (v. 10). He not only had a love for God's Word, but a desire to implant it in the hearts of others. When one has an experiential knowledge of God's Word he longs to teach it to others.

3. His commission (7:11-26).

The king Artaxerxes gave him a copy of the decree authorizing him to lead a company back to Jerusalem. He was empowered (1) to collect funds (vv. 15, 16); (2) to levy tribute (vv. 21, 22); (3) to appoint magistrates and judges (v. 25); (4) to execute penalties (v. 26). So great was the king's confidence in Ezra that he gave all these powers into his hand. For this great honor Ezra lifted his heart to God in thanksgiving. He was mainly concerned with the fact that he was to beautify the Lord's house and acknowledge that God had put this purpose into the king's heart.

II. The Company (8:1-20).

The company was small—only 1,754 males, but including women, children and servants, there were perhaps 6,000 to 7,000 people in this caravan.

III. Ezra's Prayer and Fasting (8:21-23).

The first thing he did was to seek God's guidance. Not only God's leaders, but all Christians should seek divine guidance and help in every undertaking—every new journey, every piece of new work, every business adventure, every relationship. That which we cannot invoke God's blessing upon should not be undertaken. Further, success can only be realized when God's blessing is upon us. He did not minimize the dangers attending such a journey, but he had told the king that the hand of the Lord would be upon all for good who sought him, and now he was ashamed to ask the king for a military escort to protect them from the marauding Arabs.

IV. The Successful Journey (8:24-32).

God heard their prayer. The treasure entrusted to them was great. Perhaps the entire value of all the money, etc., was $5,000,000. For a week caravan to go on a journey requiring four months through a country infested by these robber bands, carrying such an amount of money was most perilous; but Ezra knew that God was able and would protect them. Note:

1. The care and honesty (vv. 24-30). The money was weighed unto them at the start and was to be weighed when turned over to the authorities at Jerusalem. The incentive to honesty and strict accounting of the trust was that they were holy men and were entrusted with that which was holy because it belonged to God. Most exacting care should be exercised in handling the Lord's money. We should guard sacredly our trust.

2. Their safe arrival (vv. 31, 32). Some four and one-half months were required to make the journey. God proved himself to be faithful, having protected them and brought them safely to their destination.

Overtaking Ourselves.

In the same degree that we overtake ourselves, we shall underrate others; for justice allowed at home is not likely to be corrected abroad.—Washington Allstott.

Let the Injuries Pass.

Christianity demands us to pass by injuries; it is policy to let them pass by us.—Franklin.

Offended Vanity.

Offended vanity is the great separator in social life.—A. Helms.

CANTRILL ADDRESSES BURLEY GROWERS AND FARMERS

Congressman J. Campbell Cantrell, in an address to a great crowd of farmers and tobacco growers of Taylor and adjoining counties at Campbellsville, Saturday, declared that "something is wrong when 60 per cent of the farmers of the United States live on mortgaged farms," expressed the opinion that agricultural conditions in the United States in the past few years were due to a defective system of marketing and declared that the only remedy for these conditions lies in co-operative marketing of farm products.

"Here in Kentucky," said Mr. Cantrell, "we grow half the tobacco produced in the United States. Our climate and soil are ideal for tobacco production. Our tobacco growers are experts in that work, but they have been receiving less than it cost them to grow their tobacco because with all their expert knowledge of tobacco growing, they know nothing of marketing."

Mr. Cantrell said the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association had simply adopted the method of the great manufacturing concerns and selling their products just as these big manufacturing concerns are selling theirs. In the old days, he said before the successful organization of the growers into a compact body, there was practically one buyer of tobacco while there were 60,000 to 75,000 sellers. Naturally, he said, the tobacco of all other farmers, with the inevitable result that prices, except during the years of the world war or at other extraordinary times, barely returned the cost of production and in some years, as in 1920, for instance, failed to realize cost of production.

CONTINUE FIGHT FOR F. & C. SCHEDULE

Although the Frankfort and Cincinnati Railway officials are receiving letters from the secretaries of the Georgetown and Louisville Chamber of Commerce concerning the discontinuation of the passenger trains making it impossible for traffic leaving Georgetown and adjacent territory to make connections for Louisville, the general manager of the company writes that it is impossible for the company to operate the trains as it did previous to July 1st.

The schedule now followed by the F. & C. company make it impossible for Scott county people to make connections the same day either going or coming from Louisville. The Louisville Board of Trade complained to the Georgetown Chamber of Commerce because the new schedule favored Cincinnati markets four hours and practically threw all trade in their vicinity to Cincinnati merchants.

The railroad company manager says that it is more economical to abide by the present schedule since there has to be only one train crew with two additional brakemen, and one engine crew employed as compared with two engine crews and two train crews employed to operate according to the June schedule.

If there are a number of merchants along the F. & C. line complain about the present schedule, according to the Louisville secretary of the Board of Trade, the question can be put before the Railroad Commission for arbitration.

RACING OFFICIALS OF BLUE GRASS FAIR APPOINTED

The following officials have been named for the race meeting of the Blue Grass Fair Association for the week of August 21: Stewards—C. W. Hay, R. L. Baker, S. C. Nuckols and W. H. Shelley, Secretary of Racing—W. H. Shelley, Clerk of the Scales—Julius Reeder. Paddock Judge—Dr. C. Cann, Patrol Judge—W. E. Phillips. Timer—S. K. Hughes.

ANOTHER HOME COMING

The Kentucky home coming celebration planned in connection with State Fair week recalls the successful home coming celebration sixteen years ago. The 1906 home coming was conceived and executed as a Louisville enterprise, but the whole State shared in the event.

Thousands of expatriated Kentuckians, many with their families, came back for a visit to the "Old Kentucky Home" that many of them had not seen since childhood. It was the occasion for family reunions in every county in the State and no celebration ever held in Kentucky aroused as much sentiment or strengthened more family ties. Kentucky is about due for another home coming and if the one to be held under the auspices of the State Fair in any way approaches that of 1906, it will be a success.

CALLING FOR NEW DEAL IN POLITICS

Those State papers which are calling for a new departure in the selection of a Governor next year seem to be striking a popular chord. The Shelby News says: The movement against naming a professional politician as the Democratic nominee for Governor of Kentucky is rapidly gaining favor throughout the State, judging by comment of widely separated newspapers and it is probably striking terror to the hearts of that group of men who have been commercializing politics in order to line their pockets at the expense of the tax-payers of the State. Kentucky must have a business administration next time if the rapidly climbing State debt is to be halted and relief is to be afforded the overburdened property owners. It is up to the Democrats to furnish this man and every voter who expresses himself as opposed to any professional politician for Governor will be lending his aid to a movement to bring out the right type of candidate.

MASTER'S SALE

BOURBON CIRCUIT COURT

Mrs. Lizzie Brown... Plaintiff

Vs.—Notice of Sale.

Elizabeth K. Brown, Etc. Defendants

Under and by virtue of a judgment and order of sale rendered at the June term of the Bourbon Circuit Court, in the above styled action therein pending, the undersigned Master Commissioner, on

SATURDAY, AUGUST 26, 1932,

at the front door of the court house, in Paris, Bourbon County, Kentucky, at about the hour of 11 o'clock a. m., will sell at public auction to the highest and best bidder, the following described property:

Lot No. 1, fronts 50 feet on Winchester Street, and extends back southward the same width 200 feet, and is described thus:

Beginning at the western corner of Burnett's lot on Winchester street, and running westwardly with Winchester street 50 feet; thence in a southerly direction 200 feet; thence easterly to Burnett's line 50 ft.; thence along Burnett's line 200 ft. more or less, to the point of beginning, making a lot 50 feet front and 200 feet deep adjoining Burnett on the east, and lot No. 2 herein on the west and south and having a dwelling and other improvements thereon.

Lot No. 2, fronts 50 feet on Winchester street, and is described as follows.

Beginning on Winchester street at western corner of lot No. 1, and running thence along Winchester street in a westerly direction 50 feet to line of Harris & Speakes; thence with their line and Minogue's line in a southerly direction 568 feet, more or less; thence in an easterly direction 100 feet; thence in a northerly direction 342 feet, to southwest corner of lot No. 1, and where lot No. 1 and Burnett's lot corner; thence with the rear line of southern line of lot No. 1, 50 feet in a westerly direction; thence with the western line of lot No. 1 to Winchester street, 200 feet, more or less, to the point of beginning.

A passway beginning at Winchester street, and running along the line between lots No. 1 and 2 a distance of 80 feet and 8 feet wide is reserved for the use of lots 1 and 2. The 8 feet of width consists of a strip 4 feet wide off of lot No. 1, running along its western line a distance of 80 feet from Winchester street, south, and the remaining 4 feet consists of a strip of land 4 feet wide off of lot No. 2, running from Winchester street along the western line of lot No. 1 80 feet, the passway thus occupying two adjoining strips of ground each four feet wide taken off of lots 1 and 2 respectively, along the western line of lot No. 1 from Winchester street, in a southerly direction 80 feet.

Said sale will be made upon credits of six and twelve months, the purchaser or purchasers being required to execute their two bonds with good and approved surety, for equal parts of the purchase money, each due six and twelve months from date of sale respectively and bearing interest at the rate of six per cent (6%) per annum from date of sale until paid, said bonds to have the force and effect of judgments. The two lots above described will be sold separately.

Said sale is made for the purpose of reinvestment.

O. T. HINTON,
Master Commissioner B. C. C.

BRIGHTER EVENINGS

Just History

In '76
The Colonial Dame
Spun her cloth
By Candle flame.

In 1860
In Crinoline bright,
She greeted her guests
By Coal Oil Light.

And later on,
How time does pass
Her home was lit
By flickering Gas.

But the girl of to-day
Who wants her home bright,
Just presses a button
And has Electric Light.
